First Ball of Sea Island Cotton.—Messrs. J. H. BACCHET & Co., Factors, on Accommodation wharf, received yesterday one bale of sea island cotton from the Point View plantation of Messrs. WELDON & PATTON, on Cooper River. This cotton is of a superior quality, the staple being fine, soft and silky. Messrs. WELDON & PATTON had the honor of sending the first bale last year, and have been equally fortunate the present season. Their cotton is mostly matured, and the bale sent Messrs. BACCHET & Co. is but the avant-courier of similar consignments.

DESTITUTION IN GEORGETOWN.—A correspondent of the Georgetown Times furnishes the following information regarding the destitution in that district:
"Mr. Editor:—I desire to bring to the notice of the citizens of Georgetown the fact, that there are a large number of our kind, who are starving. The means which have been furnished me, through the kindness of friends at a distance, for the relief of the poor, is expended, and, as I am told, the government has not issued rations to the whites, something ought to be done at once. I have written to different parts of the country for help, as yet have had no response."
JNO. A. PORTER.

THE FOURTH COMMANDMENT.—In the present unsettled condition of the country the mind is apt to revert to the "good old times" of the ante-bellum era, and contrast the quiet and order which then reigned supreme, with the demoralization that now exists. This is particularly noticeable in the desecration of the Sabbath, which has recently become quite a common crime, and the day of rest is made one of enjoyment.

As the portion of the city, groups of men and boys collect in the burnt district and on the vacant lots in the Upper Ward, and spend the day in playing base ball. Aside from the reprehensible character of this employment, parties living in the vicinity are frequently inconvenienced by the noise and boisterous language in which the players indulge.

Although Charleston has never aspired to Puritanism, her citizens have been accustomed to consider Sabbath-breaking as a crime, and the municipal authorities were prompt in suppressing any attempt to engage in secular employments. Since the war a change has come over the land, and persons who formerly respected religion, now openly declare that the day set apart for its observance, is to be devoted to a game of ball, and the enthusiasm of this pastime should not lead the clubs to select Sunday for their sport.

The complaints from residents in the vicinity of their grounds have been frequent, but the base ball mania is on the brain, and nothing can induce the players to desist. Their present course is contrary to all rules of law and order, but if the game must be played, and they have no spare time but Sunday, there are several old fields in the suburbs that would be better suited for this sport than the burnt district or vacant lots of the city.

BRADSTREET'S MERCANTILE AGENCY.—In our column will be seen an advertisement of Messrs. Bradstreet & Son, who have established in our city—No. 30 Broad street—a branch of their mercantile agency under the supervision of J. L. FONDA, Esq.

The firm of Bradstreet & Son are well known, and have branches of their business in all the principal cities and sea-ports throughout the United States. Their business is an old established one, with a reputation beyond all of its kind, and which we can truthfully pronounce, solid, reliable and permanent.

The aim and intent of the mercantile agency is to furnish business men, who deal with others in a commercial point of view, as far as they possibly can, with the standing condition and circumstances of the mercantile as well as of all the business men of the community at large.

For this purpose they publish two books—one a large book—comprising the whole of the United States, Provinces, and Sandwich Islands. This book contains the names of 100,000 business houses.

The smaller edition comprises simply the Western and Southern States, and has been improved by an addition within the last two years of over thirty thousand new business houses. This book is published twice a year—first of January and first of July.

Both the large and small editions give the character, standing and trustworthiness of the business firms published, which are respectively rated by letters that are clearly and explicitly explained in plain comprehensive key.

The books of Bradstreet & Son have agents and agents in every city, town and village throughout the United States, who keep them on hand and up in all the varied mercantile concerns are constantly occurring. By this are enabled to keep their subscribers thoroughly au fait on the state and condition of the mercantile business here, and must be aware that to retail, if the firm and work must be supported.

This mercantile agency affords information, for this is its entire business, that no combination of merchants or bankers could possibly obtain. It is an indispensable branch and necessity.

NOTICE.—Shippers per steamship Meridian for New York are requested to send in their bills of lading for signature, as the office of COCKBURN & TANNHOLM, Agents, No. 44 East Bay, by 6 o'clock P. M., this afternoon.

THE CHANGE OF MILITARY COMMANDERS IN DISTRICT NO. 2.—The army, first at noon yesterday, announced to the citizens of Charleston the retirement of General SICKLES, and the assumption of command by General CANBY. Captain CLODS retires from his position, and is succeeded by Lieutenant LOUIS V. CAZARIS. General SICKLES, it is understood, will leave for New York on Saturday. BUSINESS ACTIVITY.—A stroll along the principal wharves and business thoroughfares of the city will demonstrate to the most invidious croaker that the Fall Trade has commenced, and though the receipts of new cotton are as yet but small, they will increase daily until the wharves and store-houses are filled to replenition. The large wholesale and retail stores are now some of busy life.

New goods are being constantly received, and the merchants are engaged in opening and displaying them to the best advantage. A number of country merchants have already visited the city for the purchase of their supplies, and the boxes to be sent in front of the several stores are indications that the visits were not made in vain. The merchants of this city have exerted every nerve to make the business facilities of Charleston equal to the past. They have laid in ample stocks, and are prepared to offer their customers the same inducements that have made this market popular with the trade.

GERMAN IMMIGRATION.—Those of our readers both here and in the country, who take an interest in the subject of immigration, will be pleased to learn that a letter received from Captain Merz, at Oldenburg, dated August 19, states that a number of emigrants are getting ready to sail on the 1st of October. The Bark Gospe, Captain WITTE, will positively leave on that day, and Messrs. DELUXE & Co. have promised that should a sufficient number of emigrants offer, they will send another vessel to Charleston in November or December. Some of the papers and ship-brokers are totally opposed to our scheme, others are in our favor, especially the Bremen Morgenspost, a large daily, and among the brokers Mr. G. F. EISELING, office Neue Bourse, Bremen, "whom I would cordially recommend to such of our friends in Charleston, as may have occasion to send for any of their relatives and acquaintances." If the State of South Carolina will guarantee five per cent. interest for five years on a capital of from $4 to $200,000 dollars, this sum might be raised in person to Charleston. I have seen several Bremen merchants, who have made this proposal. It would no doubt insure a current of emigration to Charleston.

TORTURE.
WHO WOULD ENDURE THIS TORTURE ARISING from Chills and Fever, when it can be easily cured? Who would endure sleepless nights, burning fevers and dry chills alternately, when a remedy can be obtained for a trifle?
Who would wander like an uncertain shadow, never knowing what moment they may be prostrated? Who would be a burden to himself and a burden to his friends, who are worn out in administering to his wants?
Who would live this life of agony when the great alternative is so near?
Every day letters pour in upon us, testifying to its great efficacy in curing Fever and Ague, Dyspepsia, Languor, Nausea and similar ills.
